A NOTE TO OUR CHILDREN
ON THEIR FIRST HOLY COMMUNION

Dear Brothers and Sisters of St. Michael's Parish,

This weekend our parish family celebrates First Communion. First Communion is not only the introduction of a child into fuller community participation; it is also a reminder to adults of their own faith commitment. When someone in the family is preparing to receive Eucharist for the first time, it should be a family affair. Eucharist is the heart of Christian life and it should become the heart of the Christian family.

Sharing family meals together help children understand many concepts that are important to understanding Eucharist. Children grasp concepts like unity and belonging from experiences of sharing, listening, eating, conversing, thanking and celebrating. This is done at special holiday dinners, birthdays and everyday family meals.

Doing something together is an opportunity for a child to bond with his/her family. Since bonding feels so good, the child will naturally look for ways and opportunities to repeat the experience. Family rituals and traditions give a child a feeling of safety and control as he/she masters the predictable.

Christian families have many traditions which can be helpful to the process of becoming family. Catholic families worshiping together at Sunday Mass, celebrating the liturgical seasons and feasts, and sharing stories of Jesus and his life are all examples of ways to build family rituals and traditions. These are the best ways to instill and reinforce spiritual values.

This week, as you sit together around the table as a family, share stories of what you remember from your First Communion. Talk about what all the Communion you have received since then have meant to you. Discuss how blessed we are to be able to worship together and receive the Body and Blood of Christ and how that calls us to be the best version of ourselves.

Congratulations to all the First Communion Candidates of St. Michael's Parish. Let's use our mealtime to draw closer together as a family and to our God.

Fr. Minhyun Cho

Congratulations to our second graders on the occasion of their receiving the Sacrament of First Communion. Boys and girls, today Jesus comes to you for the first time. Jesus does this for you because He loves you. Jesus loves you very much just like your mothers and fathers.

Each time you come to Mass with your family, you may receive Holy Communion with them. Always remember, you want to be the best boy or girl you can be to have a holy home for Jesus to visit with you. Remember, you are very special to Jesus and He is your friend. Visit Jesus often, talk with Him, and tell Him about your life, whether you are happy or sad. If you need Jesus' help, don't be afraid, Jesus always answers our prayers. Be sure and thank Him each time for all the wonderful things He gives you, including Himself in Holy Communion. Don't forget to pray for priests, brothers and sisters. Maybe some day Jesus will call you.

Please pray for your parents that they will continue to be good examples for you. Again, congratulations! May the Lord bless you and your family.

Your Pastor,
Fr. Minhyun

On Saturday, April 27th at 11:30am The Children of Saint Michael's Church CCD Class will Celebrate the Sacrament of First Holy Communion.

Congratulations and God Bless You.

And a big Thank You to Mrs. Toni Fordyce and her Teachers for preparing our children for their First Holy Communion. Thank you for your Dedication to our children. Great Job!

Today is Divine Mercy
Sunday

It is a wonderful time of year. Spring is here and the opening day of baseball. The weather is becoming nicer and the days longer. Lent has given way to Easter, and the Octave of Easter gives way on the following Sunday to "Divine Mercy Sunday." It is another great reason to love the season. But, what is so great about Divine Mercy Sunday? Divine Mercy Sunday may be the greatest day of the year because of the immeasurable amount of grace Jesus promised to pour forth on this day. In the private revelation accepted publicly by the Church, Jesus made a specific promise to Saint Faustina about Divine Mercy Sunday: "On that day . . . The soul that will go to Confession and receive Holy Communion shall obtain complete forgiveness of sins and punishment." (Diary, 699)

Christ wanted to draw our attention to the immense importance of these two sacraments of Confession and Holy Communion. So much so, that Christ's promise amounts to offering the graces of a complete pardon, or essentially a second baptism! Jesus reiterated these conditions and promise of a complete pardon at least two other times to her. (Diary, 300 & 1109) The "oceans of grace" available to us on Divine Mercy Sunday can make us anew and give us a fresh start again.

We simply have to make a good Confession (such as the Saturday before) and stay in a state of grace up to receiving Holy Communion on Divine Mercy Sunday or the vigil Mass. Jesus requested we also do works of mercy whether deed, word, or prayer. But, the devotion was not always so. Initially, the Vatican had received erroneous and confusing translations of Sister Faustina's Diary, and in 1959, censured the devotion and banned her writing. The ban would last 20 years, seemingly fulfilling a prophetic writing in the Diary that her work would "be as though utterly undone." In 1965, Karol Wojtyla, the Archbishop of Krakow at the time, commissioned one of Poland's leading theologians, Fr. Ignacy Rozycki, to prepare a critical analysis of the Diary. Then, on April 15, 1978, after receiving Fr. Rozycki's analysis and a better translation of the Diary, the Vatican's Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith lifted the ban. Years later, on April 30, 2000, Karol Wojtyla, then Pope John Paul II, canonized Sister Faustina Kowalska and established the first Sunday after Easter as Divine Mercy Sunday.
